

FC4HTRP Fall Session Week #2

Our first week of classes was like posting—up and down! Tuesday night classes were cancelled due to a nasty thunderstorm, but Thursday and Saturday went beautifully.

We are welcoming 6 new riders this fall, and expect to have full classes all session. Our younger riders all grew like crazy, with lots of stirrup changes and helmet updates. For Week #2, we'll start to focus on our goals. Welcome back!

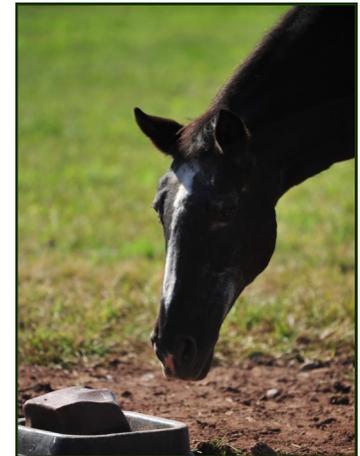

Ways to Participate:

- Silent Auction assistants — we need help with areas like food donations, gift certificates, and more!
- Loch Moy volunteers — we need family and students to spread the word about our program
- Snacks for volunteers — chips and cookies are great!
- Copier paper 8 ½ x 11 white — pick up a ream at CVS, a grocery store, or Staples
- Horse treats — stop at TSC, Southern States on South Street, Frederick, or Woodsboro
- Donations of $ — place your spare change and dollar bills in the donation box on the

Loch Moy Farm Fundraisers

Our next Loch Moy fundraiser is October 8; we need volunteers to park cars or greet guests. This is a great way for families to get involved, by telling our story first-hand while you pass out peppermints and flyers.

The crowds at Loch Moy love horses, and completely understand how much it costs to care for our aging equine therapists. Please sign up with Debbie if you're interested in volunteering for a shift.

Barn Crew

It takes 3 volunteers in the ring for every beginner rider, but did you know that we also have an army of volunteers in the barn working hard to get our horses ready for class? They catch the horses, groom them, and make sure all the tack is ready. It's a huge job, especially in muddy weather. Thank you Barn Crew!

We recycle cans and bottles.

Please remember to separate from trash.
